Sunday Readings

- 1) Genesis 18:20-32
- 2) Colossians 2:12-14
- 3) Luke 11:1-13

The Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time begins with a reading from Genesis. Abraham pleads for compassion for those few innocent people of Sodom and Gomorrah. God promises him, "For the sake of those ten, I will not destroy it." Jesus teaches us to pray in the reading from Luke's gospel, using the familiar words, "Father, hallowed be your name." He urges us to be persistent in our prayer: "And I tell you, ask and you will receive; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you." Taken from the "Weekly Guide for Daily Prayer" on the Creighton University's Online Ministries web site: <http://www.creighton.edu/CollaborativeMinistry/online.html> Used with permission.)

Church Funnies:

- I asked our six-year-old, “How did you like the service?” She said, I liked the music, but I thought the commercial was too long.”
- Does a good beginning and a good ending make a good sermon? Yes, if they’re close enough together.
- A new pastor preached a stirring sermon on “Gossip” but then made a fatal error by closing the service by singing “I Love to Tell the Story.”
- Sunday school teacher: “Cleanliness is next to what?” Little boy answers, “Next to impossible.”
- A four-year-old prayed: ”And forgive us our trash baskets as we forgive those who put trash in our baskets.”
- Over the massive front doors of a church, these words were inscribed, “The Gate of Heaven.” Below that was a small cardboard sign which read, “Please use other entrance.”
- The sermon this morning: “Jesus walks on the Water.” The sermon this evening: “Searching for Jesus.”
- For those of you that have children and don’t know it, we have a nursery downstairs.
